A culet home wedding took place last evening at 8 o'clock, when Miss Clare de Grafentied Boswell, the daughter of Mrs. Thea Garland Boswell, of No. 906 East Clav Street, was united in marriage to Dr. Hugh Benjamin Mahood, of Emporia, Va. Owing to recent bereavement in the family there was no reception and only relatives were invited.

With the owening strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Annie Garland, of Danville, the aunt of the bride, the sroom and his best man, Dr. Ashby Pone, of Southampton county, entred from the west hall to awalt the entrance of the bride. Then from the north parlor came the little flower girls in white-Miss Thea Blair Boeverly and Miss May Novell Garland, who, advancing slowly down the room, took their places on either side of the altar. They were followed by four-year-old Master Richard Boyd Garland in a Fauntleroy suit of white, who, with great dignity, bore the wedding ring on a silver tray.

And now the bride, gowned in white chiffon over taffetta, entered upon the arm of her brother, Mr. Edmund Norvell Boswell, of Montreal, Canada. As she approached the altar, the groom advanced, and, receiving the bride's hand from her brother, led her to the altar, where the ceremony was impressively performed by the Rev. Porter Hardy, of Bon Air, a coustn of the groom.

Immediately after the congratulations of friends, Dr. and Mrs. Mahood left for Mrs. Mahood lea stately brunette with Mrs. Mahood lea cachasy andegared her-

When Proper Food is Necessary,

Proper food is nover more necessary than when recovering from a wasting sickness, when over-eating would be fatal, and plenty of it.

At this time the condensed food Grape-Nuts is shown to be one's most powerful friend. Four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts and cream will sustain a healthy man for half a day, and a less quantity in warm milk will build up the convalescent wonderfully. No stomach is too weak to digest and relish Grape-Nuts. "I was taken sick with typhoid fever, and everyone who has had this disease knows how weak and lifeless a person feels when beginning to recuperate.

"I had to be very careful about my diet, and could eat only very light foods. These did not seem to nourish me, and instead of getting better, every day I was just at a standstill, and everyone began to fear a relapse. One day, while lying in bed very much discouraged, my sister, who was reading to me from the paper, read an article about Grape-Nuts, and we decided to send for a package.

"From the very first meal of Grape-Nuts I began to improve; strength came in bounds and isaps, with the result that I was soon out of bed. My change for the better seemed simply marvejous. My mind is clear and strong, and my body sturdy. I am now entirely recovered." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

OPENING SESSION.

Mr. T. B. Hicks was the master of ceremonies at the opening of the session of the Supreme Conclave of Hoptasophs at Masonic Temple yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. All his arrangements went through like clock-work, and it was scarcely half an hour when the speech making was through with and the speech making was through with and the speech making was through given business.

With the large hall completely filled with delegates, and many ladies in the balcony, Mr. Hicks, in a few well-selected words, gracefully introduced Mayor Taylor, who, in a brief and characteristic speech turned the keys of the cliver to the visitors and bade them a hearty welcome.

JUDGE INGRAM'S REMARKS.

Judge Ingram's remarks were liberally applianded throughout, and at times the demonstrations ran for several minutes on a stretch. He spoke about ten minutes, and this is what he said;

My Brother Heptasophs;

A great man has said that "judges ought to be more learned than witty, and that an overspeaking judge is no well tuned cymbal," and this will excuse I hope, the brevity of my welcome, and I trust that its cordiality will take the place in my address of lack of wit.

This meeting of Heptasophs from all over the country is a great event for Richmond, and as I gaze into your kind and intelligent faces I need no prophet to tell me that your mission is in the interest of an important philanthropy, that you are here as your brother's keeper, that sordid selfishness did not prompt your coming and that such a sentiment will have no place in the deliberations of this session of the Supreme Conclave of the Improved Order of Heptasophs. "On telchmond" has been the cry for well-come and response.

The meeting of the lodge was called to order at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the commandery room of the Masonic Temple. The attendance at the outset was excellent.

The convention began with an open session, presided over by the supreme dictator, Mr. D. S. Biggs, of Boston. Members, ladies, and other visitors were present. The chief business of this session were the opening addresses delivered by two Governors. Both were of a high order of excellence, and both created an eminently favorable impression.

Governor A. J. Montague was presented to the Supreme Dictator by the Rev. Herbert M. Hope, of this city, Supreme Chaplain of the order. In an able and appropriate address the Governor welcomed the convention to the Commonwealth. He referred to the high purposes and the splendlid history of the organization and commented upon the influence of this body and others of similar character in developing patriotism and solidifying this great republic. The speech was received with high favor and was frequently interrupted by applause. The response was made in an appropriate manner by the Hon, J. C. Sheppard ex-Governor of South Carolina. He was most happy and cloquont in his remarks. He made fit reference to the glorious history of Virginia and in a most impressive way told of the splendid work the noble brotherhood was doing. Both speeches were allke, in that they were model orations for such occasions.

Considerable discussion was given to the question, which came up in connection with the recently agitated report that a movement for an election here this fall was already afoot. Members of the committee were unanimous in the expression of the most decided opposition to any such plan. While perhaps every one of them is in favor of local option for Bichmond, as well as for other places, they are a unit in the belief that the time has not yet come for such a step in this city. What they will attempt in the future is a thing which the future will have to decide.
